He has long been a friend of the United States and the Allies, and his strong defense of the Allied cause, as opposed to the leanings of the Carranza administration on the side of Germany, earned for him eight months of banishment from Mexico.

He said yesterday that his mission abroad had been unusually successful and promising, but he made it clear that it was not an attempt to align the European powers with Mexico against the threadbare myth of American aggression.

the threadbare myth of American aggression.

"I went to Europe," he said, "in accordance with the policy of Alvaro Obregon, our President-elect, who desires friendship with the entire world, especially that of the United States, our nearest and most powerful neighbor. I was sent abroad as special ambassador to Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy and Spain on request of President de la Huerta, so that I could deal directly with those powers on all matters between them and Mexico.

Obregon's ambassador said that he was received by President Millerand of France, and that during his visit to that country the only pending matter between her and Mexico was that the latter was ten years in arrears in interest due on a French loan. The King of Belgium, he said, offered to assist in every way possible to help Mexico take her place among the nations of the world. He said he felt more at home in Spain because her language and customs were common with those of his own nation. King Alfonso told him that there were no questions in dispute, informed him that he had always been favorable to Mexico and had urged Spanish bankers to invest in the building of oil tankers to take Mexican oil to Spain. Italy promised to Mexico on start a steamship service between Genoa and Vera Cruz.

President of Prison Survey Committee Submits Report Showing Peril in Retardation in Schools

Dullness in school and crime are definitely, related in the opinion of the standard sending to flee warships in Sebastapol, but the vessel is still remaining in port, say the advices. The evacuation is continuing, but there is inadequate shipping for the number of persons seeking to flee. Members of General Wrangel's government were still in Sebastapol last night, although the Belaheviki were reported to be occupying Simferopol and capturing many prisoners and large quantities of materials. Information reaching the Foreign Office says the Bolsheviki did not storm the Perekop lines, but by an enveloping movement of their left wing invaded the Crimea. They crossed over the ice-frozen Putrid Sea and attacked the main body of General Wrangel's troops, which then were still holding the Perekop defences, from the rear.

George and Chamberlain Favor, 3 Others Oppose Trade
LONDON, Nov. 14.—The latest note sent by M. Tchitcherin, the Russian Polshevik Foreign Minister, to Lord Carzon, the British Foreign Minister, complains, according to The Daily Herald, a labor organ, of the continual procrastination on the part of the British government in the negotiations and asks for immediate resumption and the swift conclusion of trade relations.

The Herald adds that behind the firm courtesy of the note is a clear hint that unless something is done the Russian delegation will be withdrawn. The Herald asserts that the draft agreement is supported by Premier Lloyd George and Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, but it is bitterly a concessed by Faul Curren.
